Stone and cut up the raisins, but do not chop them; wash the currants, and cut the candied peel into thin slices. Mix all ingredients well together, and moisten with the eggs, which should be beaten and strained, to the pudding; stir in the brandy and, when thoroughly mixed, well butter and flour a stout new pudding cloth. Tie the pudding, tie it down very tightly and close it; boil for 4 hours. Serve with brandy sauce. A few sweetmeats, sliced and cut in strips, and stuck on the pudding, will ornament it prettily. This quantity may be put in buttered moulds. For small puddings, it is the most desirable way, as the above pudding of rather large dimensions. Average Cost, 1s. 14 persons.
